

Building Boom On

$2 Million Mark Already Hit

Canyon's growth this year reflects a building boom, according to permits granted by the City of Canyon.

So far this year dollars spent are $647,742 ahead of last year. With two full months remaining in 1960 this figure will probably increase substantially if the trend follows that of last year.

As of Tuesday noon permits totaling $2,280,648 had been granted. This figure includes three building projects on the college campus. In February permit $445,692 was given for a boys' dormitory, $539,566 for a girls' dormitory and $380,274 for additions to the student union building. Totaling $1,365,532 this leaves $915,116 used so far residential and commercial building.

Only $84,884 short of $1 million the figure should hit the $1 million mark by December 31, according to a Canyon builder.

He believes this figure certainly reflects a boom for a town the size of Canyon. Last year's figure of $1,632,906 included $977,000 for the new high school. This leaves $655,906 for residential and commercial building.

During 1959 a total of 11 permits were issued and so far this year 101 have been granted.

Last permit issued as of Tuesday noon was for an apartment house at the corner of 26th Street and 8th Avenue.

Randall County Deposits Up $300,000 in '59

Randall County citizens have almost $7 million on deposit in the county's only bank, the First National Bank of Canyon.

Total deposits have climbed to $6,805,361.34. This is around $3,000,000 higher than the same quarter in 1959, when the total was $6,489,302.14. Deposits are up almost $600,000 from the quarter ending in June.

The figures were brought out in reports of condition of the bank.

Total resource figures are up to more than $7 million, with the current quarter's total being $7,577,990.81. This is compared with $6,934,985.38 in the previous quarter and $7,073,241.89 in the same quarter last year.

Of the deposit figures $5,354,912.89 is in demand deposits, subject to immediate checking. An additional $549,947.84 is in time deposits that cannot be withdrawn until a date specified by the depositor and the bank.

Deposits by the United States and state government and various political subdivisions, such as county, school district, city, and others.

Loans and discounts now total $3,960,210.36.

Undivided profits are up, now standing at $345,043, compared with $311,439.75.

First big event on Homecoming day will be a parade through Canyon at 11 a.m. With approximately 30 floats, entered by WT campus organizations and city businesses and organizations, several area high school bands and riding clubs, the parade will form on 3rd Avenue, west of Highway 87. Line of march will be up 3rd Avenue to 15th Street, around the town square and back east on 4th Avenue to 26th Street, and into the campus via the boulevard which is an extension of 2nd Avenue.

Bagchue after the parade is catered by Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, and tickets cost $1.25 a person.

Roland Black, manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce said all board members are selling tickets and urged all Canyonites to attend the barbecue.

It will be held in the old Buff Stadium and there will be approximately 12 serving lines. "As soon as possible people should leave the barbecue and go to the stadium for the game," Black said. "If everyone waits until the last minute, we'll have a traffic problem," he added.

Reservations for the barbecue must be made by Nov. 3, according to Dr. Jack Walker, chairman of Homecoming activities, and may be made through the Ex-Students Association or the Chamber of Commerce.

Traditional reunions, smokers, and teas by campus organizations will be held following the football game at 2 p.m., between the Buffaloes and the Trinity University Tigers.

A preview of the WT basketball squad will be shown by Coach Metz LaFollette at 6:30 p.m. in the Field House, when an intersquad game will be featured.

Closing out the day's activities will be the Homecoming dance in the new ballroom of the Student Union Building, at 8 p.m. Admission will be $1 per person, and music will be furnished by the orchestra of Hugo Lowenstern.

THINGS STARTED with a bang Monday morning when the above car collided with a 1950 International pickup at the intersection of 4th Avenue and 16th Street. Mrs. Dick Barnett, driving the Chevrolet, was hospitalized with knee injuries.

Car Wrecks Keep City Police Busy This Week

City police have been busy with car mishaps this week, according to L.D. Caldwell, chief of police.

First one was Sunday evening at the intersection of Highway 87 and 2nd Avenue. Kay Lyn Scott of Hereford, driving a 1960 Ford, was stopping for a turn onto 2nd Avenue when a 1960 Chevrolet driven by Larry Yarbrough of Paducah struck her vehicle from the rear, according to George Hinch, city patrolman.

The Ford was knocked 83 feet from point of impact, according to Hinch.

Three were injured in the wreck: Yarbrough, and two girls riding with Miss Scott, Glenda Allison, Amarillo and Barbara Hudgins of Plainview. They were taken to Neblett Hospital for observation. All are students at West Texas College.

Total damages were estimated at $1500.

Second wreck occurred Monday morning at the intersection of 4th Avenue and 16th Street.

A 1949 Chevrolet, driven by Mrs. Dick Barnett, Canyon, collided with a 1950 International pickup driven by Raymond Lee, Spurlock, Canyon.

According to Calvin Costley, city patrolman, the pickup was making a left turn onto 4th Avenue from 16th Street and the Chevrolet was headed east on 4th Avenue.

Mrs. Barnett was hospitalized with knee injuries.

Total damages were estimated at $600.

Wednesday morning there was a collision at the intersection of 3rd Avenue and 8th Street. A 1952 Chevrolet pickup driven by Benito Baca of Canyon collided head-on with a 1952 Oldsmobile driven by Richard Hernandez of Canyon.

The pickup was traveling south and the car was going north, according to Costley. Damages were estimated at $325.

Bufs Face Arizona After 21-0 Victory Over H-SU

Dimmitt's Coffee Too Strong For Eagles, Dropped 28-12

NED JOLLY, WT left half, set a new kickoff return record for the Bufs with a 100 yard gallop against the HSU cowboys Saturday. Jolly will appear at the same slot in the game with Arizona Saturday.

Owning two wins in a row for the first time since 1957, West Texas State's football team will fly to Tucson Saturday night for another Border Conference Game with University of Arizona.

The Bufs of coach Joe Kerbel notched their first conference win Saturday in impressive fashion with a 21-0 win over Hardin-Simmons at Abilene. It was only the school's seventh win over the Cowboys in 33 games, and it was the Bufs' first shutout over HSU since 1923. It was the first West Texas shutout over anyone since 1957 when the Herd blanked Texas Tech, 19-0.

Both the Bufs and Arizona have two wins to their credit in rebuilding seasons. West Texas edged North Texas, 14-6, two weeks ago before the triumph at Abilene. Arizona also is fresh from a victory, having defeated New Mexico, 26-14, Saturday at Albuquerque. The Wildcats, coached by former SMU assistant Jim Larue, stopped Wyoming, Skyline champ, for their other win.

The Wildcats have dropped three decisions, but all to respected foes. Utah did it in the opener, Colorado followed up two weeks later, and two weeks ago Tulsa kicked a field goal in the dying seconds for a 17-16 win. The Bufs have been downed by Texas Tech, Arizona State, Mississippi Southern and Texas Western.

The Bufs came out of the Hardin-Simmons game without any injuries and will be at top strength for the 'Cats.' Bill Bradley, former Tucson High griddier now starting at right guard for the Bufs, will return to his home town in the role of an attempted spotter. Former high school teammate, John Smull, is top guard for Arizona.

The last five WT-Arizona games have been extremely close and another thriller is expected Saturday. The Wildcats won 7-6, last year, and 15-8, the previous season. In '57 the Bufs pulled out a 21-20 victory, but Arizona took a 20-13 decision in 1956. The clubs fought to a 20-20 tie in 1955.

Mrs. Blackburn is the former Edean Singleton, Mr. Blackburn is manager of the LBJ Ranch, owned by Lyndon B. Johnson.

The couple have one other child, a daughter named Edie Lou, 15-months-old.

Golden Agers Set Meeting

Senior citizens of Canyon have been invited to a meeting of the Golden Agers Club at 7:30 Friday night in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Program will consist of fellowship, recreation, and refreshments.

Dimmitt fullback Junior Coffee passed, bulldozed and ran the Bobcats to a 28-12 victory over the Canyon Eagles Friday in a game played at Dimmitt.

During the first part of the game it looked as though the Eagles would walk away with their second straight victory over Dimmitt but Coffee's passing and running proved too much for the Canyon team.

Canyon took the kickoff in the first half and in three plays had the ball over the Dimmitt goal for an early 6-0 lead. Harry Lisle got away for a 71-yard scamper to make the TD. Try for conversion failed.

The Bobcats fumbled the ball on their first play after the score but the Eagles had to kick out after four tries for a first down.

Coffee then took command of the ball but had to kick out of a tight spot after chalking up one first down.

A pass tossed by Doug Ward was intercepted to give the Bobcats the ball once more but they again fumbled the ball on the first play. Harry Lisle fumbled on the Eagles' first try for a gain. Dimmitt recovered on their own 42 and marched all the way for their first score.

First quarter ended with a 6-6 tie.

Second score for the Bobcats came late in the second quarter when Coffee pitched to a receiver in the end zone.

Again their conversion try failed.

The Eagles began a drive in the remaining minutes of the first half from their own 20 and carried the ball within 13 yard of pay dirt. The gun sounded with only 17 yards needed for another tally.

Late in the third quarter the Eagles took advantage of a fumble by the Bobcats and went from their own 49 to the goal in ten plays. Gail Cox made the final score for the Eagles. A kick for the extra point was blocked.

The Bobcats took the kickoff on their 31 and Coffee led the way for another TD. He smashed through from the 14 to make the Bobcats' third tally. Coffee carried the conversion over for another two points.

Coffee made one final score in the middle of the fourth quarter to bring the score to 26-12. He again ran the conversion over for two.

In the remaining seconds of the game the Eagles frantically passed for another TD but were caught on their own 27 by the final gun.

Friday night the Eagles traveled to Levelland where they met the Lobos in a non-conference tilt.

Conference standing for the Eagles is 1-1 with two games remaining in the series—Dalhart and Tulsa.

From the February 24, 1961, Randall County News; (in reference to the district basketball tournament held in Canyon, Amarillo was claimed second place in the tournament.) Higgins, the winning team, played Canyon first, and then Farwell, defeating Farwell by a much larger score than they defeated Canyon. She then defeated Amarillo, a fresh team with a very decided margin. We claim second place, with all courtesy to Amarillo. (from a column entitled "High School Notes.")

Jo Walker Takes Advantage Of Inherited Talent--Art

One of Canyon's more talented artists rather belatedly learned of her talent, which was inherited from her mother.

Mrs. Jack (Jo) Walker didn't begin painting until after her marriage. When her son Billy, who is now 14 years old, was about two years old, she took an art course at WTSC, launching her new hobby.

Jo's paintings are mostly in oil-- "I just couldn't handle water colors to suit me." The paintings usually follow a theme of nature, and are done in a style akin to impressionism, implying a mood.

Using her favorite combinations of blue, purple, and green, Jo paints scenes which have a sentimental meaning for her. Her paintings are usually of a scene which she has personally seen, but occasionally, she will pick a particular object and build a picture around the object. Impressed with the wooden cart in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, she painted mountains behind the cart and then added a grazing donkey to the scene.

Leaving the brighter colors, Jo painted a picture of a small area in their mountain cabin lighted by coals from the fireplace. In the picture is the family's dog lying in front of the fire. The entire painting is done in black, brown, and pale orange. It is definitely one of Jo's "mood pictures."

Mrs. Walker feels that since she has begun to paint, that her eyes have been trained to see "little things" and this helps her to more appreciate beauty. She definitely believes that this area is beautiful "although I don't think so when the dust and wind are blowing."

Eight of Mrs. Walker's paintings are hanging in the family home east of Canyon, and she has "a closet full" besides the eight. She frequently gives one away, and has only sold two.

This weekend several of her oils will be in an exhibit at Sunset Center in Amarillo. The exhibit is sponsored by an Amarillo woman who hopes to make paintings available at a low price for the residents of the area.

A one-man show--or in this case, a one-woman show--by Jo was one of the first such shows done in this area. She has also participated in exhibits in Amarillo. Once she put a rather high price on a painting to be exhibited because she herself wanted the painting. Soon after the show she received a letter which she treasures. A woman from the area asked that if the picture was still available in a year, she would buy it. She didn't have the money then, but was planning to save so that she might purchase the picture. Mrs. Walker made a copy of the painting and sold it for one-third of the original price! "It's flattering to know that someone would pay their hard-earned money for my picture."

An idea is the beginning of a painting for Jo. Then, she will begin her picture, perhaps with only a nebulous idea of what she wants. One of her favorite paintings developed in the last thirty minutes before the painting was completed. She usually takes a day to complete a picture, but has one hidden back that she started two years ago. She hasn't been painting on it that long--it just didn't get finished, and she hasn't found the inclination to finish it. "Maybe" I'll get it finished this year.

The Walkers are a versatile family. Jo has taught English and history at Amarillo College and holds a master's degree. Jack is technically Dr. Jack Walker of the speech department at WTSC where he teaches communications--radio and television. His hobby is writing. Billy's interest in electronics takes the family into yet another field.

As a whole the family enjoys raising horses and showing them. They own several quarter horses and an Appaloosa colt, which is really Billy's.

1200 Turn Out For Open House

Between 1200 and 1500 persons toured Canyon's newly-completed high school plant Sunday afternoon.

Open house at the building was hosted by the school board members, the administration, and the teachers.

Visitors praised planning of the building in activity areas. Joe A. Gibson, superintendent, said that many commented to him on the beauty of the building and its functional design.

Floral decorations given by Canyon merchants and businesses connected with the building of the plant were placed about the building.

Future Teachers of America club members directed registration of visitors in the lobby where brochures containing information on cost and outstanding features and a floor plan were distributed.

Refreshments were served in the homemaking department, and members of the student council served as guides. Also, teachers were located in their respective rooms to point out equipment and features of each department. Tours were given in the auditorium and music department by those students of the respective departments.

Installation Highlights

County Agent's Column

JOHN BRAZZIL

By John Brazzil, County Agent
The light frost October 20 was about on time. Tender plants such as tomatoes and a few ornamentals were nipped but field crops suffered little damage. Many farmers feel that a frost now would help more than it would hurt.

A killing frost would defoliate cotton and help cure grain sorghum.

Radall County seemed to have escaped most of the severe weather damage to crops. In most areas grain sorghum is still standing well and will be ready to combine when fields dry. Some fields of hegar and forage crops were lodging.

E.C. Robinson of the Jewel Community believes some dry land grain sorghum will yield 80 bushels per acre if it can be saved. A yield this high occurs but a few times in a man's lifetime.

Soil and water conservation work is picking up. Terrace and pond construction will help heal some of the erosion scars left by heavy rains. Ample funds remain in County ACP program for this work and other practices. Call by the ASC office for more information. The SCS boys are ready to help.

Radall County 4-H Club members are having a gigantic Halloween party at the Forrest Gruner's Monday night, October 31, Halloween night. The huge quonset barn will be decorated and ready by 7 p.m. The 4-H adult leaders are decorating the barn and planning to feed the group. Parents are invited.

The Texas A & M College and the Department of Internal Revenue will sponsor an income tax school November 9, at Canyon. Farmers, ranchers and people who make tax returns for these folks are invited. Watch this column for additional information on this school.

Cattle and wheat pasture just naturally go together. Radall County has the wheat pasture and many cattle. Many more cattle will be needed to graze wheat. An ample supply of roughage is available for feeding in bad weather.

Four Canyon Students Receive Test Awards

Four Canyon High School students received certificates of achievement in an assembly Wednesday at the school.

Receiving the awards were Bill Phillips, Larry Homan, Clark de Schweinitz, and Lois Harlan. They earned the awards by scoring in the 94 per centile or higher on a National Education Development Test, given last spring when they were freshmen and sophomores.

Principal J.E. Miller made the awards.

Areas included in the test were English usage, math usage, social studies reading, natural science reading, and word usage.

Lowest score among the Canyon students was 96 percentile. Two scored in the 98 percentile, and one in the 99.

Mrs. Frost Interred At Happy

Memorial services for Mrs. Frances Esma Frost, 77, were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 26, 1960, in the First Methodist Church of Happy.

Mrs. Frost died early Tuesday morning in Twilight Rest Home in Amarillo following a lengthy illness.

She had lived in the Happy area since 1926.

Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor, conducted the services. Burial was in the Happy Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Palbearers were John Robinson, Edgar Robinson, Sherman Cox, J.O. Rusk, Keene McDonald, and Glynn Mahler.

A member of the First Methodist Church of Happy, Mrs. Frost moved to Happy from Vigo Park.

Mrs. Frost was born in Olustee, Oklahoma, in December 4, 1882, and was married to William Leonard Frost in Quanah on December 31, 1912.

Her husband died in 1937. Surviving are her son, John E. Frost of Happy; two sisters, Mrs. Bertie Ford of Hale Center and Mrs. John Sedlacek of El Cajon, California; and four grandchildren, Bill, Bob, Len, and Ralph Frost, all of Happy.

Two condemnation suits resulting from the Amarillo-Canyon expressway were settled this week in county court.

First was the State of Texas vs. Latham and Company. The Latham Company was asking $25,000 wettlement for damages to property and the loss of just over four acres. Land is located four miles north of Canyon. Suit was filed March 31, 1958.

State's first offer was $1,679. The jury granted $2,541.70.

Second case was the State of Texas vs. Rose, Mathis. Figure asked for was $39,226 but the state's approved figure of $12,888 was submitted to the jury and they accepted it.

Property concerned was just over 19 acres located six miles north of Canyon.

A.W. Lair represented the state in both of these cases.

One other condemnation suit was scheduled to be settled today (Thursday) but was postponed due to sickness of one of the lawyers.

Many interesting art exhibits have been planned for the fall in the Fine Arts Building of West Texas State College.

Sunday, November 13, from 2 to 5, Blanche Lenderson of Muleshoe, Texas will exhibit her paintings. There will be around 50 paintings in this show.

Miss Isabella Robinson, formerly head of the art department will be honored in a special show December 11. She has traveled and studied art in Europe, Mexico, and Alaska. Her paintings, lithographs, and handweaving have been exhibited extensively in shows throughout the country. The art department wishes to extend a special invitation to Miss Robinson's ex-students and her many friends in Canyon.

Then December 4, there will be an art exhibition from Paris, France. The name of this show is Paris-Ma-Ville. This show will contain the kindergarten children's impressions of the City of Paris.

Closer to the Christmas Season, there will be a show by a young Amarillo boy, Bob Straight. He will exhibit paintings that are quite remarkable for a high school student. He has painted for many years and the quality of his work will certainly prove this.

These shows will offer Canyon a great variety of viewing and it is great fun to expose yourself to the many types of art going on in the world today. Four operas will be presented by the Dallas Civic Opera Company. They will be given in two performances each, including several "firsts" in repertoire and artist's American debuts, will be produced.

Doglietti's "Daughter of the Regiment," imported from Palermo will be presented November 4. Following this first opera will be, Puccini's, Madame Butterfly, in a new Kabuki conception, directed by Kizi Hoyke, Imperial artist of the Japanese theater; Handel's "Alcina," never before presented in America, imported from Venice's Teatro La Fenice, where it had its Italian premiere last February. Blanche Theohim will be the mezzo star of this opera. The final opera being Don Giovanni, specially arranged and planned for Dallas by Franc Zeffirelli.

All performances will be staged in Dallas' State Fair Music Hall. Requests for reservations, accompanied by check, and a stamped envelope for return of tickets, should be addressed to Dallas Civic Opera Co., 309 Browder Street, Dallas, 1, Texas.

VI Part 4. (cont.) Several things must be considered in the purchase of tape. Exactly what do you wish? A simple suitcase type of recorder to record children's voices or to play at parties, and to play back monaural tapes without much fidelity, can be bought for some $150. This can be used to play through your speaker to give a somewhat better quality. If you wish to buy prerecorded tapes for playing music and are not interested in any home recording, buy a tape deck. This is connected through the preamplifier into the stereo system. A good quality can be had for perhaps $125, and very high class sound reproduction for $175 up. If you happen to wish to both record and play back music with your tape, it gets much more complicated. With a good stereo recording tape machine, records or radio programs can be recorded directly on tape by direct connections through the preamplifier. You may enjoy listening to a friend's choice recording, and at the same time make an exact duplicate on tape for your future use. Machines can be bought with all degrees of recording, play back, portability, speakers or non-speakers, etc. A stereo recording-playback tape recorder may have power amplifiers contained, and can be connected directly to two small speaker systems to get a good system without the other equipment needed to play records, radio, etc.

Several things are important in considering the tape recorder. It is necessary for the tape to run at a very accurate speed; so again a good motor such as a four pole or hysteresis is a must. The recorder should have at least 7 1/2 feet per minute and 3 3/4 feet per minute speeds. Most high fidelity recording is at 7 1/2. Always buy 4 track stereo; never 2 track. Four track means that the tape can be played from one reel to another until it is used, and then can be reversed and played back to the beginning; thus getting music both coming and going. This doubles the music on the tape. The 2 track tape is becoming extinct.

ART ODDITY OF THE WEEK From the wire service in London comes the news that Harry Gale, a metallurgist, has offered to cure Big Ben of stuttering.

He says the famous clock bell intones a "Bo-ol-ing" sound when it should properly just go "boing". The reason is a crack that showed up in 1859 two months after Big Ben went into place in the tower of Parliament.

Mr. Gale's reported solution is to mend the crack with a nickel alloy joint.

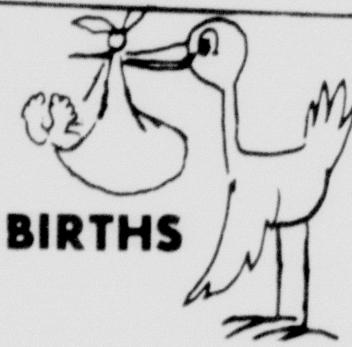

A Minister of Works spokesman quoted as being rather doubtful on the grounds that the world "has got used to" that extra "ol."

It has. And we have. But although Mr. Gale's suggestion sounds sensible, it can be filed away in the file with other suggestions as "plans to straighten the tower of Pisa, repaint the Parthenon, and rebuild Stonehenge."

Three Sisters at WT Taking Part in Opportunity Plan

By Carol Haseloff
WT Journalism Student

"I love him like a second daddy," says Linda Ellis, Plainview freshman, of Milton "Buff" Morris, executive secretary of the ex-student association.

Margie, her sister, who is a WT junior, agrees with Linda that Morris has been like a father away from home to her. "Just feeling that he is someone who cares that I go to school and how well I do is one of the ways Mr. Morris has helped me," says Barbara Ellis, the senior sister at West Texas.

Like many students at WT and some who have finished, the three sisters have been given the chance to obtain a college education through the "Opportunity Plan." Morris, backed in his decisions by a board of trustees, is the chief founder of the "Opportunity Plan," a unique loan fund given on the basis of need, sincerity, and willingness to co-operate. Scholarship is not considered the most important factor in the student record.

The plan, which charges no interest on its loans, is operated from memorial funds and the ex-student fund. After sending himself through college, at WT and helping his brothers and sisters to attend, Morris introduced the new idea of a fund to loan students money, while they work and attend school. "I think it's wonderful that there are people who give their money to help kids through school," said Linda, age 17, who lives in Randall. "When I graduate I want to give to the Opportunity Plan. I think it helps the students to appreciate their education more, because they have to work at staying within their budget, to earn and to pay it back as they go."

The two older sisters, Margie 20, and Barbara, 21, are roommates at Brown Hall. They appreciate the fact that the Opportunity Plan is geared to fit the student's needs.

"Mr. Morris is always asking for suggestions on how to improve the plan," Margie stated. "Yes, and if the ideas the students have are better than the old way, he will change the plan," agreed Barbara.

Keeping records of what they spend and what it is spent for is one of the requirements all students on the plan have to meet. The students must also attend all of their classes, turn in the money they earn, and agree not to marry without paying the loan or having Morris' permission.

Besides talking to Morris frequently, each student on the plan is assigned to a faculty member who helps with their personal and scholastic problems.

blems. This double check helps to make sure the students are not working too much to get the most from their classes. "Keeping my budget and a record of my money has helped me save quite a bit," Barbara said, remembering her freshman year at Tech. "The AAUW from Plainview gave me a $150 scholarship when I graduated from high school. If I had not had that encouragement I might have never gone to college at all."

"I remember how much harder it was to study when I was worrying about money all the time. I worked at a jewelry store in Lubbock and often, I had my choice of eating lunch or having taxi money."

Margie and Barbara came to school here in 1958. They have given Linda a chance to be prepared for college life by having her visit them for the last two years.

"I chose West Texas not only because Margie and Barbara were here, but because of the training for the teaching field that is offered," says Linda. The older girls have given Linda advice about studying mostly, but they do have some things to say about the boys.

"One of the advantages of going to school with your sisters is that you get to know three times as many people as you normally would," Barbara said laughingly. "One boy I saw the other day said 'Hi, Mar—uh, good morning, Miss Ellis.'"

Assignments for the game warden are varied and many.

Most people think of the game warden as a law enforcement officer--and he certainly is. But in addition to his duties as an officer he has many other responsibilities.

Stanley McDonough, new warden for the district including Randall, Swisher and Briscoe counties is an example of the present day Texas game warden.

"Our training includes much more than law enforcement," McDonough says of his schooling at Texas A&M College.

"We attend A&M for one semester and get 12 hours college credit for our work. Many of the courses taken are conducted by game wardens and do not count as college credit.

"The bulk of college work," he says, "deals with wildlife management. In addition to this, we are required to know first aid and public speaking. We had regular college training in these courses."

And McDonough stresses the importance of public speaking. "We are called on many times to present programs to clubs, Boy Scouts and schools. Any time a program is needed on wildlife, the game warden is the first one contacted."

And to help the warden with his programs, the Texas Game and Fish Commission has a division established for education and information. This division is responsible for furnishing photographs, movies and other educational material dealing with Texas wildlife.

Of course, the warden still must deal with law enforcement. "Presently, through education of the public, there are very few violations," says McDonough. "Occasionally someone will not know certain game laws and then, too, there will always be the habitual law violator."

McDonough's duties always increase with the opening of hunting seasons. He has been working with dove hunters, and has just returned from assisting in antelope hunts to the north. Working on migratory bird movements for the next few months, McDonough is conducting periodic counts of birds on Buffalo Lake. Every two weeks he must send in a report stating how many of each specie and sex he finds on the lake.

These reports are being conducted throughout the Panhandle to see if there is a need to change seasons and bag limits.

And, too, he is still responsible for enforcement of game laws in his district. McDonough, single, is from Matador.

Amarillo Center Proven by Time

By Leward Hood

WT Journalism Student "Adult education will not go over in Amarillo," Dr. Roy G. Boger was told when he first came to the high plains city in the summer of 1942.

That statement was made by a leading "educator" as he watched Dr. Boger organize the first evening college for adults ever established in Amarillo.

During the past 18 years of operation Dr. Boger and faculty members of Amarillo Center and West Texas State College have dramatically proven the falsity of such a claim. Since those words were uttered 32,226 persons have registered for instruction at the center.

The night school, to be moved to the Canyon Campus at the close of the present semester in January, now promises to extend much greater and more varied service to Panhandle residents, Dr. Boger said.

In spite of numerous verbal and written objections to relocation of the center, college officials are optimistic about its outcome. "The vast improvements will entirely offset any disadvantages," the center director said. "We're going to add some 25 courses to our program, as well as badly needed laboratory facilities. Now evening students are going to enjoy full library advantages and adequate parking space. We won't have to crowd 1,114 students into one building like we are doing here."

Commenting on current conditions, Dr. Boger said, "The center has outgrown itself, that's all. It has been overcrowded for several years." Every room in the building, located at 2101 Harrison, has been utilized for classroom work. Porches, lounges, all have been converted into classrooms, into which students are "packed."

The center opened for business in September of 1942, with an enrollment of 150 persons in 20 classes. This fall there are 1,114 persons enrolled in 95 classes. It opened at a time when construction of the Science Building and Museum was not yet completed on the WT campus. The building, the former residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allen Early, was donated to the college for educational use and will revert to the Early estate in January.

Over the years the center has enrolled students from every corner of the Panhandle and from all walks of life. Most of them, explained Dr. Boger, have been adults.

"One reason why we know they are adults is that they refuse to give their ages on our forms. We get such answers as 'past 21' and 'just over thirty,'" he said jokingly. Most center patrons are teachers seeking degrees, housewives seeking intellect and diversion, and business employees seeking advancement through higher learning, he added.

Average age of persons who have attended the center so far is 32, although many are past 60 and some are past 80. Well over half of the students are engaged in graduate study.

Directing the center in Amarillo has been a "thrilling" experience to Dr. Boger. "I have seen people awaken to a real need for higher education and take advantage of rewarding opportunities resulting from their individual endeavor," he stated. "Education is an individual affair to me."

The center director also said he has watched many persons discover and exploit creative and intellectual abilities which they previously had not recognized in themselves. "Many times we have had trouble getting them out of the building at closing time," he said, referring to art students. "It's a wonderful thing to watch an adult discover new horizons of self expression."

When Dr. Boger first began directing the center, there existed among many Amarillo citizens a lack of appreciation of West Texas State Teacher's College, as it was then called.

However, the attitude disappeared after people began studying at the center and experiencing the academic quality of the resident faculty, he said.

"At least 75 per cent of all of the faculty members in Amarillo Public Schools have studied at the center at one time or other," he asserted, pointing out ways in which the night school has benefited Amarillo. Teachers and business employees from virtually every city and town in the Panhandle have attended. "Many drive over 100 miles each week to attend classes and we are sure this kind of enthusiasm will continue."

Dr. Boger, a 1909 graduate of Nacadoches High School, served as executive secretary of Southern Methodist University in Dallas before coming to Amarillo. Prior to taking the Dallas post he was president of Weatherford Junior College for 13 years.

He holds a master's degree from Southwestern University and an honorary doctor of law degree from McMurry College.

Smiling broadly, Dr. Boger added, "Working with WT's night school is a wonderful way to wind up my career."

Buffalo Gals Serve As Official Hostesses

by Velma Arnold
WT Journalism Student

Members of Buffalo Gals might be called the "official hostesses of WT." This service organization for women has projects ranging from serving at college functions to soliciting books for Korean schools.

The list between is enormous because this group of young women strives to participate in every campus function when they are called upon for help. The invitation for services are many and the list grows longer every year, but the club seldom, if ever, says "no."

An enormous amount of leg-work is done every year as the girls cover the campus in the line of duty ushering visitors over the campus, and distributing Who's Who nominations.

Keeping in mind that knowledge is a virtue of man, the Buffalo Gals have turned some of their scholastic initiatives westward—spanning the vast Pacific Ocean to the war-torn country of Korea.

Last spring the club started a drive to send books to the students in Korea. Boxes of books are still being sent as the success of this project has kept it alive.

Members have found that work can be fun. Each year at Christmas, members buy a toy and a few cans of food. These gifts are compiled to give a worthy family a Christmas.

Jo Lynn Copeland, Spur senior, recalled her most unforgettable project as a rather wet one. "I was a freshman and the club was trying to raise money for the scholarship award. The 'Gals' worked for faculty members one day and we were doing yard-work for Dr. Mattie Mack when it started to rain. We didn't give up for a while, but after a good soaking, we went in the house. Dr. Mack even paid us extra for working in the rain."

The Buffalo Gal uniform—gray skirt, maroon sweater, and white blouse, is a familiar sight especially at home-coming. Members assist with the barbecue, dance and other special events.

Such an organization was not established here until the fall of 1951 when Vaughn Vandergriff, head of WT's journalism department, hit on the idea. School spirit was low and student participation was decreasing. The answer to these problems laid in the hands of the students. Some 15 women and 10 men came to the first meeting. It was decided to have two clubs, Buffalo Gals and Buffalo Bills.

Basically the clubs were founded on the following points: (1) to always hold the spirit of service above any personal gain or benefit, (2) to represent WT in a desirable manner, (3) to have a strong interest in the school and the student body, (4) to lead or follow as situations might demand.

The biggest project tackled by the Buffalo Gals was a brick drive to get a new SUB in 1952. Enough bricks were pledged and donated to erect the SUB which was added on to last spring. Other projects have included raising money for books in the chapel and assisting the Red Cross in blood bank drives. Since the first meeting, Buffalo Gals has grown to the present 30 members and 12 fall pledges, according to Karen Stockdale, president.

Although service is put above personal gain, the club does not overlook individual honors. Each year a banquet is held honoring outstanding members and senior members. The complete story cannot be told, and the numerous school books of notes and letters of "Thanks" only pay a small tribute to the outstanding services given by these young women.
